

Why?

It is not always easy to describe how you are feeling with words.

This exhibit gives you a chance to draw a perception of your past or current pain.

It might help you and others to understand your emotions.